MOPS INTL. GATHERS 2800 MOMS FOR MOMCON 2018 IN LOUISVILLE, SEPT. 20-22

– Leading Mom Conference Gives Moms a Chance to Refuel and Refresh –

DENVER, Sept. 20, 2018 – MOPS International is welcoming more than 2800 moms to MOMcon 2018, happening in Louisville, Kentucky, Sept. 20 to 22. MOMcon is the leading conference in the world dedicated to equipping and encouraging moms.

“With more than 20 workshops and five keynote speakers, every mom is going to learn about the things that matter most to her,” said Mandy Arioto, president and CEO of MOPS International. “And in addition to learning together, we are also going to have a whole lot of fun celebrating motherhood together.”

Amena Brown, author, speaker and poet, will host MOMcon 2018 for the first time. Keynote speakers include: Arioto, Carlos Whitaker, Danielle Strickland, Lisa Harper and Sarah Shin. Workshops will cover a wide variety of topics, from marriage tips to how to maneuver a child’s use of technology.

MOMcon 2018 will also feature musicians Phil Wickham, Vertical Worship and Spencer Crandall. MOPS will cap off the weekend with a 90s-themed MOMcon Prom, which is likely the largest mom dance party in the world.

About MOPS International

MOPS International was founded in 1973 with a mission to support moms by inviting them into a welcoming community that loves them like family. Forty-five years later, MOPS is still a vibrant organization that partners with churches and organizations worldwide to equip and encourage moms in more than 60 countries. Learn more at mops.org.
