Hey, Friends,

There is a song from Sister Sledge that I would suggest is the soundtrack of this weekend. The first two lines go:

\[
\text{We are family} \\
\text{I got all my sisters with me ...}

Which is exactly how MOMcon feels — like the best kind of family reunion, where there is so much love, support and laughter you can relax and soak up all the goodness because you are surrounded by sisters who've got your back.

In order to kick off the weekend, my best advice for the next three days is to do something bold that feels different from what you'd normally do in “real life.” Maybe it's dancing your heart out at MOMcon Prom when you'd normally stand at the back of the room and watch. Perhaps it's staying up late to have an adventure with friends, or maybe it's asking for prayer when you'd normally just keep it to yourself. This is your weekend to do something new. You're with family, and at some point during the weekend we are all going to say or do something embarrassing, so you might as well join us. Get ready to dance, cry, laugh and be your true self.

We have been praying for you. Specifically that God would show up in the way you need most. We know it takes a tremendous amount of planning and logistics to get out the door for three days, but it is going to be so worth it. At the end of this weekend you will feel different. You will have encountered Jesus, and you'll feel refreshed with new ideas and energy for your family, your leadership and your work.

Let's get this party started!

All for Love,

Mandy

After a year of staying in, let’s move to jumping in. Jumping fully into MOMcon, that is.

Snap a pic and post on social media with #moncon2021 to show us you/your:

- Favorite MOMcon session or speaker
- MOPS merch
- Favorite concession food item
- Nashville vibe
- At the photo booth in Studio M (Booth 213 of the Marketplace)
- MOMcon pajama party
- Favorite Marketplace purchase
- Enjoying live entertainment
- Exploring the Garden Conservatory
- With a MOPS staff member (we’d LOVE to chat too!)
- Moms Night Out/In
- People that you’re missing back home (you can grab this from the photo reel on your phone)
- New friend that you’ve met at MOMcon (or are meeting just now for a pic — be sure to tag each other!)
- Action shot from MOMcon Prom
- Best rhinstone cowgirl look

The only rule is that you’re in every photo. Oh, and have fun!

Twenty-five years ago, 23.3% of the world’s population lived in hunger. Today, that number has dropped to 12.9%—giving rise to the renewed hope that what once seemed unthinkable is now within reach.

The challenges are great, but the fight to eliminate malnutrition and hunger is one we can win.

The End of Hunger: Renewed Hope for Feeding the World brings together activists, politicians, scientists, pastors, theologians, and artists to provide a comprehensive picture of the current situation through compelling stories.

With clear steps for action, this book is designed to inform and inspire the reader to get involved in the work of eradicating global malnutrition and feeding the hungry.

Leading “all in” means embracing the transformative power of love. It means we love always and in all ways. Let’s consider the big concepts and practical implications hiding in that simple statement. During your leader experience workshop you’ll consider loving and leading:

- Always: The main focus of the position
- In All Ways: Practical ways to maximize opportunities
- All in: The thing that can take your year from ordinary to extraordinary

Carlos Whittaker is a People’s Choice Award winner, a former recording artist signed to a major label, a social media maven, and currently spends the majority of his time writing books and speaking on stages around the world. It really began when the Whittaker’s found their family in America’s spotlight with appearances on shows like “CBS Early Morning,” “The Today Show” and more when their viral video “Single Ladies Devastation” went viral. But for Carlos, his wife Heather and their three children, this viral moment was just a snapshot of the bigger picture. @loswhit

Annie F. Downs is a New York Times bestselling author, sought-after speaker, and successful podcast host based in Nashville, Tennessee. Engaging and honest, she makes readers and listeners alike feel as if they’ve been long-time friends. Founder of the That Sounds Fun Network — which includes her aptly named flagship show, That Sounds Fun — and author of multiple bestselling books including “That Sounds Fun”, “100 Days to Brave” and “Remember God,” Annie shoots straight and doesn’t shy away from the tough topics. @anniefdowns
God’s Word is being proclaimed in some of the world’s most remote and hard-to-reach places through Operation Christmas Child. By packing shoebox gifts with your kids, in your MOPS group, or both, you can help spread His message of hope and love to the ends of the earth!

Amy Weatherly loves giant earrings, graphic tees, chips & salsa, and Diet Dr. Pepper a little more than she probably should. Most days, you can find her in sweatpants/leggings/the same shirt she slept in shuffling kids back and forth like a crazy person. Her family is her home. Her friends are her safe space. And her passion is helping women find courage, confidence, and the deep-rooted belief that their life has a deep and significant purpose. @amyweatherly

Barb Roose embraces and enjoys the complex world of faith, love, relationships, responsibilities and celebrating the even the smallest victories in life. Barb has experienced God’s power and presence during battles with depression and anxiety, parenting challenges and family addiction trauma. Rather than teaching audiences to follow God to get what they want, Barb inspires audiences to discover that God is all that they truly need! @barbroose

Nicole C. Mullen has long been known as an undeniably talented artist who is unafraid to be vulnerable and transparent with her audience. All for Love
5 Coping Strategies for the Frazzled Mom
Cindy Bultema // Sponsored by GEMS Girls’ Clubs // THURSDAY at 3:15 - 4:15 p.m.
If you’ve ever had a mom-sized meltdown before your first cup of coffee, are overwhelmed by the pressures and stressors of parenting in a post-pandemic world, or long to live at a pace of peace instead of panic, you belong here. It’s more than possible to live frazzled no more! gemsgc.org // @gemsgirlsclubs

Combatting Hunger: Conflict, Climate and COVID-19
Jenny Dyer // Sponsored by The 2030 Collective // THURSDAY at 3:15 - 4:15 p.m.
In 2019, we launched a book with InterVarsity Press, “The End of Hunger: Renewed Hope for Feeding the World.” Though climate and conflict were obstacles, we were still optimistic that we could continue with progress to eradicate hunger, with a continued momentum of political will and funding, by 2030. Today, COVID-19 is reversing the course. In this discussion, we will cover the current issues of acute malnutrition, wasting and starvation — including countries on the brink of famine this year. At the same time, we will map out strategies to tackle food insecurity with a way forward to continue the fight against hunger, particularly for women and children during the first 1,000 days of life, around the world. @2030collab (on Twitter & FB)

Mom Nom — Snackable Content for Moms
Tia Gerdsen & Kelli Jo Smith // Sponsored by CCU // THURSDAY at 3:15 - 4:15 p.m.
Get your daily dose of validation with this open and honest discussion about the joys, struggles, and humor of motherhood. This lighthearted “you’re not alone” style workshop will be a refreshing break and the encouragement you need! Find fellowship, rekindle your purpose, and ignite your inner supermom! ccu.edu/mops

Special Needs Mamas
TyiaLynn Scott // Sponsored by Critically Loved // THURSDAY at 3:15 - 4:15 p.m.
Join TyiaLynn for some tips on navigating a difficult road, but really come for the celebration! We all need cheerleaders on this journey, so don’t miss this opportunity to get to know some other moms who understand the struggle. The first 100 mamas to arrive at the workshop will receive a pampering bag full of goodies to spoil yourselves a bit while at MOMcon. Whether your child is diagnosed with mild autism, life threatening cancer or anything in between, use this opportunity to take a well-deserved break and come join us for some fun! criticallyloved.org // @critically_loved

The God Hears Her Podcast — Live // Elisa Morgan & Eryn Eddy // Sponsored by Our Daily Bread - God Hears Her Podcast // THURSDAY at 3:15 - 4:15 p.m.
God Hears Her is a podcast inspired by the bestselling devotional. Hosts Elisa Morgan and Eryn Eddy are joined by a variety of guests to share personal stories of hope and encouragement. True freedom comes from sharing our journeys and knowing we’re not alone. This podcast is for women who are in the trenches of the beautiful and messy moments of relationships, work, ministry, and more. Slow down. Be in the moment. Be known. Hope Anyway
Leeanna Tankersley // Sponsored by BrightParents // FRIDAY at 1:00 - 2:00 p.m. & 2:30 - 3:30 p.m.

I want to talk to you about hope. And not the kind of hope that wishes on outcomes or relies on happy endings. I want to talk to you about a hope that is far more subversive, one that sits with you when you’ve been knocked down and reminds you that you will, absolutely, rise. Let’s create an honest space where losses are honored and the messy middles are validated. Let’s do this together. I know it’s going to be good, leeanatankersley.com // @leeanatankersley

Forgiveness and Mental Health: Unlocking the Supernatural Freedom of Forgiving Everyone
Lori Lara // Sponsored by Awana // FRIDAY at 1:00 - 2:00 p.m. & 2:30 - 3:30 p.m.
With all the hurt in the world, no wonder God calls us to forgive. Our habits in dealing with hurts and offenses (big and small) can affect our quality of life. Most of us want to forgive but we never learned how to do it well. Perhaps you feel like old pain is holding you back, affecting your parenting and close relationships, and you don’t know how to break free. In this workshop, we’ll discuss common blocks to forgiving and how to create a sacred practice of releasing others, so we can enjoy the emotional freedom God created for us. We’ll end in a time of reflection and prayer.

Declutter Your Life (Spirit, Mind and Body): Your Closets will Follow!
Deborah Porter // Sponsored by Sonlight // SATURDAY at 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. & 3:00 - 4:00 p.m.

When most of us think about decluttering, our minds generally turn toward the stuff: closets, garages, cabinets. However, the first areas that are in need of decluttering are internal: our thoughts, minds, emotions and even our spiritual lives. The goal is to get clarity on the areas where clutter is impacting our lives, gain confidence in identifying those areas and live courageously in surrender.

How to Cultivate Hope in Your Child
Lori Wildenberg // SATURDAY at 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. & 3:00 - 4:00 p.m.

“I just want my kids to be happy,” a sentiment many of us echoed pre-pandemic. Currently, anxiety and depression are on the rise with suicide being the second leading cause of death in young people. We must fight against this! Now is the perfect time to empower your children with real hope. Author and parent coach Lori Wildenberg shares four easily implemented ways for moms to encourage hope-filled thoughts and feelings in their children while embracing the true hope we have in Jesus.

It is Well with My Phone
Arlene Pellicane // Sponsored by Every Home For Christ // SATURDAY at 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. & 3:00 - 4:00 p.m.

Technology is supposed to make us more efficient, giving us more time with our kids, but it often has the opposite effect. We can easily find ourselves scrolling through social media endlessly or working 24/7. This workshop isn’t about smashing your phone, but it is about stashing your phone — putting it away more often so you don’t miss the most precious moments of your life. You’ll also learn about the power of the phone to negatively impact your child’s brain — and what you can do about it.

Mentor For Life: Finding Purpose Though Intentional Discipleship
Natasha Sistrunk Robinson // SATURDAY at 3:00 - 4:00 p.m. ONLY

Natasha’s book, “Mentor for Life: Finding Purpose Through Intentional Discipleship,” presents a mentoring framework of: knowing and loving God, knowing your identity in Christ Jesus, and loving your neighbor as yourself. In her time with you, she will touch on these six mentoring commitments: presence, discipline, mission, community, relationships, and love. These “commitments” are crucial as we parent our children, but also as moms supporting other moms.

Bibles to inspire your walk with God

We get it. Mom life is busy, and it’s easy to put your own quiet time on the back burner. We’ve designed these Bibles to help you connect with Scripture on your own time — and to discover new ways that the word of God applies to your life today.

NIV Radiant Virtues Bible
Discover how the virtues of faith, hope, and love are threaded through Scripture and design your quiet time around devotionals, coloring pages, journaling prompts and art from the Beautiful Word collection.

NIV Verse Mapping Bible
Dive into God’s word using research tools to find connections in Scripture—and dig deep into what God is saying to you.

The NIV Busy Mom’s Bible
Get daily inspiration—even if you only have one minute—through devotionals and deeper studies.

The Adventure Bible
Share God’s word with the little ones in your life and set them on a path to discover the stories, characters, and lessons to be found in the Bible.

Face Time, Not Screen Time

Moms don’t have time to waste. When you gather with your girls for Bible study, you don’t always want to spend time watching a video. You want to catch up on each other’s lives, dive into discussion, pray for each other, or share a meal.

That’s why we’ve designed our new study guides to include free streaming access to the Bible study videos. Watch (or listen to) your Bible favorite teachers anywhere, anytime. And save your group time for real connection.

Streaming video access included!

Taylor Hughes fell in love with the art of illusion when his parents bought him a magic kit for his 7th birthday. More than 30 years and 3,000 shows later, Taylor has become known for his signature style of Magic Storytelling. His new special Chasing Wonder is currently streaming on Amazon Prime. Taylor is married to his high school sweetheart Katie and they live in Southern California with their 2 daughters Madelyn and Kennedy. @magicstoryteller

The best-selling and most-awarded female gospel artist of all time, CeCe Winans has long since cemented her status as one of the most accomplished and celebrated women in modern music history. She’s been inducted into the Gospel Music Hall of Fame, the Hollywood Walk of Fame, and the Nashville Music City Walk of Fame, in addition to garnering many awards. She’s sold in excess of 5 million albums in the US, topping the Gospel charts repeatedly while crossing over with smashes like “Count On Me,” her stunning duet with Whitney Houston from the multi-platinum ‘Waiting To Exhale’ soundtrack, which sold 2 million copies and cracked the Top 10 on the Pop, R&B, and Adult Contemporary charts. @cecewinans

Nashville Life Music began as a spontaneous gathering around a living room piano that has now erupted into a joyful, thriving music collective in the heart of Music City. Described as “a family of fun-loving disciples,” this diverse tribe of singers and musicians is known for its lively, fun-filled melodies and powerful, anthemic worship choruses. Nashville Life Music is thrilled to use their music and songs to amplify thanksgiving, inspire believers and audiences beyond their local church, and ultimately help to build a world filled with joyfully, passionate Jesus followers and leaders. @nashvillelifemusic

At MOPS, we’re finding and gathering moms, one day at a time. When moms come together under the banner of Jesus, we believe powerful things happen.

Every dollar spent through The MOPS Store is dedicated to that mission.

Come check out our MOMcon exclusive items and mystery grab bags — five of them are holding a $50 gift card to The MOPS Store!
When you join a cohort, you join a dynamic group of women who will journey together during the MOPS year, led by an amazing cohort leader, a highly-trained MOPS volunteer who has a passion for supporting coordinators just like you. Throughout the year, the Cohort Community connects online, both for large virtual events with the entire global cohort sisterhood, and in your small group with your cohort leader.

Ready to join? Simply log into your account at leaders.mops.org/mycohort to see your cohort information. If you need to switch to a different cohort for any reason, you can search for dozens of cohort options and join a different one that fits your needs. We start meeting in October and cohort leaders are already reaching out to their cohort members, so don’t delay!
Meet Your Coach

Come meet our staff of Executive Leadership Coaches and many of our volunteer cohort leaders in Studio M. We’d love to introduce ourselves to you and answer any questions you have!

Mama Meetups™ are your instant connection to community — mom friends at your fingertips. Stay in your tired yoga pants, or dial in on your commute home from work. Bring your good, bad and ugly – we want it all, because there’s a group of moms who get you and need you, just waiting to hear about your day. They’ll bring you back into the light of God’s goodness, and remind you that you are never alone. It’s time to log back into the abundant life, because it’s the one you deserve.

Moms are the most powerful creatures on the planet. We are the ones influencing the smallest details of people’s day, but also the trajectory of generations. When moms are resourced, when moms are elevated, when moms are educated, when moms are empowered to do what they are meant to do in the world, everyone is better because of it.

MOPS.ORG/MEMBERSHIP
My dream of becoming a mom was beginning to feel like a nightmare. I am a perfectionist and having three children, let alone them being premature, was difficult to accomplish what my idea of motherhood looked like. With MOPS, I found a community of friends who listened and supported me. This was a special place to be served and to serve others. I grew more confident in my mothering skills and MOPS also remind me to enjoy motherhood.

ALL FOR LOVE

Love is patient and kind;
Love does not envy or boast;
It is not arrogant or rude.
It does not insist on its own way;
It is not irritable or resentful;
It does not rejoice at wrongdoing,
But rejoices with the truth.
Love bears all things,
Believes all things,
Hopes all things,
Endures all things.

1 Corinthians 13:4-7, ESV
REFLECTIONS on REENTRY
By Leeana Tankersley

Reentry can be one of the more gnarly passages in life. Coming back from any kind of significant experience — a hospital stay, an important trip, a memorable vacation — means we have to integrate what was with what is. This requires our human heart to flex a bit, and that flexing can sometimes make us wish we never left or wish we never came home.

Whatever you’re up against as you reenter into your “regular” life after MOMcon, we hope that you will give excessive amounts of grace to yourself. As you try to integrate your experience at the conference with whatever is waiting for you when you walk through the front door at home, be forgiving and loving and generous toward yourself. This is how the best stuff happens. We often believe bullying ourselves gets all the results, but it’s not true. Not for the long haul anyway.

As you reenter, come alongside yourself like you would a dear friend, someone you really love. Say to yourself, “I’m here with you; let’s do it together” or “You’re a real rockstar, and I’m so glad we’re on the same team” or “Man, you’re brave.” Things like that. It will matter, I promise.

In addition to grace, you will need courage to bring what you’ve experienced and learned here into your life there. Though essential, it’s not easy to open up and begin again.

Recently I was gifted a small, smooth stone, translucent turquoise with the word COURAGE written on it in white. I was reminded that the word courage comes from the Latin cor, which means heart. I’ve always loved this idea. To be courageous, then, means to be a person of heart. Not a person of great strategy or overthinking or perfect analysis. No. A person of heart. It takes courage to trust in the invitations you’ve received, the work of the Spirit.

I hope you will take both grace and courage with you as you go, and I hope they will be the kind of companions you need to make reentry both manageable and meaningful. Now go get ‘em, friend. We are cheering you on.

The single most important truth I am taking home from MOMcon is:

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
Mostly what God does is love you. Keep company with him and learn a life of love. Observe how Christ loved us. His love was not cautious but extravagant. He didn’t love in order to get something from us but to give everything of himself to us. Love like that.

Ephesians 5:2, MSG

Read this Scripture slowly 2-3 times or more.

Underline the word or words that stand out to you.

Ask God what he wants to say to you about the word or words that you underlined.

God, what do you want to say to me about receiving your love? Show me if there is anything in my way.
---

God, what do you want to say to me about loving others? Show me if there is anything in my way.
---

God, what do you want to say to me about loving myself? Show me if there is anything in my way.
